Message From Our Co-Chairs

As the weather warms and the days get longer, we know that the summer show season will soon be upon us. We hope all of you have sent in your show applications and are ready to share your wonderful art. There is still space available for all three shows.

A thank you to Betty Shore and Loretta Turner who have agreed to work together to research indoor exhibit/show possibilities. If anyone has suggestions on a location and/or dates, please contact either Betty (934-3408) or Loretta (284-7135 or lmintmaine@yahoo.com).

Judges for the summer shows will be Tammy Ackerman for July 4, Jessica Squire Rauthier for August 4 and Sue Baker for September 1. Members agreed to the following prizes:

Don't forget to sign up for the Wood Island Painting Day on June 16th. Contact Iona Desmond (934-4742) if you're interested.

First ($100), Second ($75), Third ($50), Bill Edmunds Photography Award ($100), and ribbons for three honorable mentions.

Hope to see you at our next business/program meeting.

In Memoriam

Our group has lost two very special members recently. Yonghyo Moon and Zella Morgan were both true artists and genuine people who will be greatly missed.

Zella, 87, died February 7th following a short illness. She had joined SBA early on and was an exhibitor at the first show held at Jakeman Hall in late 1995. She originally had met Elizabeth Shore when she signed up for a painting class that Elizabeth was offering one summer in Ocean Park.

While raising her family, she worked in acrylic painting & pen and ink drawing. Later she designed unique note cards, prints and hand-painted porcelain. She also did watercolor and oil landscapes, portraits and still lifes. She is remembered as a soft-spoken and very sweet person

Yonghyo, 80, died May 2nd after a difficult battle with cancer. A practicing Buddhist and an engineer by trade, she was a very successful painter who sold her work in many venues including a gallery in Korea. She was active in the SBA for the past 5 years and worked in water-based oils and pastels. Her landscapes were very photographic and realistic. She had just become a grandmother weeks before her passing and was happy that she had been able to meet her new grandchild. Her husband kindly donated her art brushes and supplies to the SBA in her memory.

We will miss both of you very much...

Editors Ramblings

Life has a way of putting things in perspective when you least expect it—or so it seems...having lost my dear mother in April—my view of what is important in this world has forever changed. As I am sure many of you have experienced, the loss of a parent, or anyone close, “does a number” on your thoughts and plans. My sincere thanks to those who sent cards and well wishes, they are all very much appreciated.

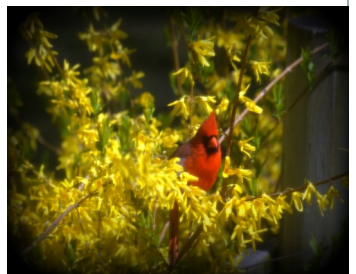

I decided to include the Cardinal (see photos) and share our story in this month's column—thank you for humoring me...

I am a believer in the idea that when someone dear to you passes, you will be “visited” by something in nature that is out of the ordinary. The idea behind this is that your loved one wants to let you know that they are “ok” and will send a bird or animal to share that message with you.

Three days after returning home from Mom's service, I was sitting at my laptop getting ready to submit some photographs to an online contest for that month (that day being the deadline). As I was typing out an email, I happened to glance out at the Forsythia bush that has been there for several years and to my surprise, there sat a male Cardinal!

The bird was looking right in at me, tweeting and singing (just like Mom) and even waited for me to run and get my camera.

I was disappointed in the quality of the shots I took, but in spite of that, I had to enter pic #2 in the contest that day. Lo and behold, if that wasn't the photo that was selected for the May Nature exhibit at the Light Space and Time Gallery.com! My Mom was always a great supporter of my venture into photography and it seems that she continues to be even today. I hope that by sharing this story, your day might be a little brighter...thanks for your support. Wendy B.
